Marshall

(aka Q)

Marshall was very timid at first. He would only stick to the women, and he was intimated by the men. But when he and Chase, our 2-year-old American Staffordshire Terrier, got together they became inseparable immediately. They spend most of the day playing and running around the house and backyard. We are coming up on our 1-year anniversary together and Marshall has changed for the best. He is very lovable to everyone, always wanting to give kisses and cuddles, he always has to stand and watch around us to make sure we are safe. He even watches TV every once in a while, especially when Chicago Fire comes on lol. He has blended in with our family so well that it feels like he has always been with us. He was that missing key we needed after we lost our first dog a few years ago. He has a sense of humor we have never seen in any dog, and we absolutely love that about him!

Sarah and Dustin Y.
Colorado Springs, CO

Marshall and his new brother, Chase