

Colton

Colton was found running loose and landed in a TX shelter. It was quite surprising that this strikingly handsome boy, with freshly clipped nails and with a clean coat, would not be claimed. But he wasn't. His foster home was in the mountains where he perfected the nice manners he already had. On June 18 he went to his new home with several other dogs north of Denver. We love happy beginning stories!