Daisy is doing well. She is very sweet, great with Layla, the cat, and the boys. We call her "white shadow" because she follows us everywhere. She loves walks and runs, and the oldest can walk her with no issues. We have taken her to a dog park here several times - no issues with other dogs. The community pool had a dog swim at the end of the season before they drained the pool. Layla loves to swim and chase the ball into the pool, I think Daisy had never been in the water before - she was really unsure. It will be interesting to see how she does with snow.
